I. MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF JUSTICE

Fiscal Year 2020 FOURTH Quarterly Message

Chief Justice JoAnn Jayne (Aláájí Hashkééjí Nahat'á)

Yá'át'ééh, Shí Díné Doo Shíghéí, Ado Nihíí Nahatajíí Nataani Honorable Navajo Nation Council Delegates, Doo Aláájí Hózhóójí Nahat'á Jonathan Nez, Doo Myron Lizer Akádó Dájizdahyígí, Doo distinguished guests. I respectfully present you the Hashkééjí Nahat'á (Judicial Branch) Fourth Quarterly Report for Fiscal Year 2020: Ya'iishjaashtsoh (July), Planting of Late Crops; Bini'anit'aatsozi (August), Ripening of Early Crops; Bini'anit'aatsoh (September), Ripening of Late Crops.

A year ago, I spoke of the long standing budget policy of the Judicial Branch that it is the heart of the people's funds which builds the foundation for budget preparation for the operation of the courts and programs. The tradition that the Judicial Branch budget is predicated on - Nitsahakees (prudent judgment for expenditure of funds); Nahat a' (planning for needs, wellness, harmony); Iina' (expend for its purpose); and Sihasin (review policies/plan for hope) - continues this year. With these sacred, fundamental beliefs and purposes, the Hashkééjí Nahat'á Branch submitted its Fiscal Year 2021 General Fund budget for October 1, 2020 through September 30, 2021.

With assistance of, and heartfelt appreciation to all Judicial Branch employees, Navajo Nation Law and Order Committee, Budget and Finance Committee, Naa'bik'iyati' Committee, and 24th Navajo Nation Council of the Legislative and the Executive Branch's approval of the 2021 budget, the Hashkééjí Nahat'á Branch received $1,700,000 additional general funds for Fiscal Year 2021.

The Hashkééjí Nahat'á Branch realizes that the Navajo Nation may have diminishing resources for the Nation's general funds for the Fiscal Year 2022 budget. Again, the submission of the 2022 budget is now a few months away. Early in the beginning of a new calendar year, staff across the miles within diné tah' work tirelessly on District Courts, Peacemaking, Office of Chief Justice, Probation and Parole, and the Supreme Court budgets. In the spirit of k'é, and sharing, our staff guide each other to determine the values that best reflect our Diné communities. With respect and thoughtfulness, our staff presented a sustainable, fiscally responsible, and principled 2021 budget.

As reiterated over the decades, sustainable funding is paramount for the Judicial Branch. It is not too early for next year's budget preparation. It is with great hope and expectation that the Legislative and the Executive Branches will continue to work with the Hashkééjí Nahat'á Branch for additional funding for Fiscal Year 2022 and beyond.

During this quarter, the Hashkééjį Nahat’á Branch staff met our goals and objectives as leaders of the branch. Diné Traditional Law declares and teaches that: “the leaders of the Judicial Branch (Aláájį Hashkééjį Nahat’á) shall uphold the values and principles of the Diné Bi Beenahaz’áanii in the practice of peace making, obedience, discipline, punishment, interpreting laws and rendering decisions and judgments.”

In the last quarter, the Hashkééjį Nahat’á Branch staff faced the onset of the COVID-19 Pandemic with the Navajo Nation and the World. Now, during this quarter, despite the challenges to us, our staff moved courageously through a maze of challenges, uncertainty, fortitude, and the knowledge that our branch had to continue to provide essential services remotely. I can say with certainty that we have seen challenges like no other in providing essential services, yet, we maintained the courage and loyalty to keep remote services for those in need of court services.

The Hashkééjį Nahat’á Branch obtained $9,633,863 through the federal CARES Act. This funding allows the branch to continue essential court services remotely. The funding source mandates that these funds are used to cover expenses due to the public health emergency of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID–19). Again, staff stepped up to the challenge of preparing a budget with input from the District Courts, Peacemaking Program, Supreme Court, Office of Chief Justice, and Probation and Parole. These funds have to be expended by December 30, 2020, thus, staff have worked diligently toward this deadline.

The Hashkééjį Nahat’á Branch developed a Roadway to Full Capacity plan for the Pandemic which encompasses a phased re-opening plan which would safely move operations from the current lockdown to normal court and program operations. Each phase is a shift toward reoccupying work buildings and resuming operations.

I am sincerely appreciative to each and every staff of the Hashkééjį Nahat’á Branch, whom we embrace as family, for their sincere, loyal, courageous, diligent work and tenacity during these tumultuous days. You have met your goals and objectives through dedication even though at times it appeared monumental. Ahee’hee.

Ahee’hee. Thank you our Diné for your patience during this time that the Hashkééjį Nahat’á Branch is providing remote essential court and program services.

The Hashkééjį Nahat’á Branch highlights its accomplishments in the Fiscal Year 2020 4th Quarterly report to the Legislative and Executive branches and to the Diné.”

Pursuant to Diné bi beenahaz' áanii, the Judicial Branch will carefully develop a justice system that fully embodies the traditional values and processes of the Navajo People.

STRATEGIC GOALS

- One:* As the Navajo Nation court, peacemaking, and probation and parole system, we will ensure the continued provision of efficient, fair, and respectful judicial services.
- Two:* We will ensure access to the judicial system by the public.
- Three:* We will address the infrastructure needed to maximize partnerships across branches, agencies, and communities.
- Four:* We will develop a judicial system in accordance with Diné bi beenahaz' áanii that fully incorporates Navajo values and processes.

V. ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS

During the fourth quarter (July – September 2020) in FY 2020, the Administrative Office of the Courts (“AOC”) completed the following:

A. ADMINISTRATION

Emergency Response to COVID-19 Pandemic

The Administrative Director of the Courts is the designated Continuity of Operation Plan (“COOP”) Coordinator, and works with a designated team of executive and essential staff to implement the COOP for Judicial Branch operations during the public health emergency. The goal is to maintain essential services to uphold the courts’ statutory responsibilities, to address emergency matters that come before the courts, and to conduct essential court-related functions, all while providing for safe working conditions. In order to keep personnel safe, the branch is now operating with a reduced, essential workforce that is telecommuting. The branch lacks telecommuting policies, procedures and tools. The actions taken since the beginning of March are to restrict all discretionary travel, and to prepare the essential workforce to do their jobs from their home locations, and to minimize the presence in the Judicial Branch facilities. Procurement of information technology devices and internet-based services is on-going in order for court management and essential court-related functions to continue.

Facilities and Devolution

On July 8, 2020, the AOC building was closed due to a COVID-19 concern. The administrative offices and Window Rock court was closed until July 13, 2020. It was re-opened for essential services after the building was cleaned and disinfected. During the closure period, AOC and Window Rock Judicial District telecommuted from alternate facilities, and worked out of the old Supreme Court hearing room, and Dilkon Court.

On July 13, 2020, the Aneth Court building was closed due to a COVID-19 concern. The court went in to devolution until July 27, 2020. It was re-opened for essential services after the building was cleaned and disinfected. During the closure period, Shiprock Judicial District assisted the Aneth Court, facilitating filings and assisting with hearings.

On July 27, 2020, the Chinle Court building was closed due to a COVID-19 concern. The court went to alternate facility until August 10, 2020. It was re-opened for essential services after the building was cleaned and disinfected. During the closure period, Dził Yijiin Judicial District assisted the Chinle Court, facilitating filings and assisting with hearings.

On July 31, 2020, the Tuba City Court building was closed due to a COVID-19 concern. The court went to alternate facility until August 10, 2020. It was re-opened for essential services after the building was cleaned and disinfected. During the closure period, Kayenta Judicial District assisted the Tuba City Court, facilitating filings and assisting with hearings.

On August 18, 2020, the Shiprock Court building was closed due to a COVID-19 concern. The court went to alternate facility until August 27, 2020. It was re-opened for essential services after the building was cleaned and disinfected. During the closure period, Aneth Judicial District assisted the Shiprock Court, facilitating filings and assisting with hearings.

On September 25, 2020, the Tuba City Court building was closed due to a COVID-19 exposure. The court went to devolution until September 29, 2020; then it reconstituted and operated from alternate facility until October 5, 2020. During the closure period, Kayenta Judicial District and the Tuba City Probation and Parole Services program assisted the Tuba City Court, facilitating filings and assisting with hearings.

Administrative Director facilitates weekly Branch Teleconferences to update all Business Unit managers and judges regarding COOP issues, health and safety information, and priority administrative issues e.g. procurement and deployment of IT equipment for telecommuting, FY 2021 Budget Development, the Navajo Nation CARES Act funding, and to begin planning and training for the return to Full Capacity.

B. HUMAN RESOURCES (“HR”)

Recruitment

1. Judge applicant: The Judicial Conduct Commission (“JCC”) passed a resolution on February 22, 2020, recommending the applicant as a probationary District Court Judge to Navajo Nation President Nez. HR forwarded the applications and JCC resolution to President Jonathan Nez on February 25, 2020. In early September 2020, President Nez forwarded the candidate’s appointment and application to the Office of Legislative Counsel (OLC). OLC crafted legislation #0226-20, confirming Victor Clyde as a probationary district court judge. The Law & Order (October 7, 2020) and Naa’bik’iyati’ (October 8, 2020) Committees of the Navajo Nation Council approved this legislation. The legislation is expected to be considered during the Navajo Nation Council’s Fall Session.
2. To fill vacant judge/justice and staff positions, HR advertises on the Judicial Branch website, social media sites, local newspapers and radio stations, local / state organizations, and national tribal organization websites.
3. Judicial Branch staff also make one-on-one contacts regarding vacancies.
4. CARES Act – the HR Office recruited and hired five (5) temporary personnel. The positions include:
 - a. Health & Safety Advisor will advise on health and safety strategies for staff during the health pandemic, and work closely with management and supervisors to re-open Judicial Branch districts and programs.
 - b. Programmer Support Specialist will assist with configuring IT equipment that is purchased from CARES Act funds, and deploy the equipment to districts and programs Navajo-nationwide.
 - c. Two (2) Facilities Maintenance Technicians will assist with building modifications to improve staff and public safety at our Judicial Branch facilities.

- d. Construction Project Manager will assist in coordinating all development aspects of the Window Rock Judicial District modular building project.
5. The HR Office assisted with recruiting for the Navajo Water Rights Commission and the Navajo Government Development Office Judicial Branch representatives for these two entities.
 - a. The Chief Justice's appointment to the Government Development Commission was approved by Naa'bik'iyati' Committees on October 8, 2020, and will be considered by the Navajo Nation Council during its 2020 Fall Session.
 - b. The Water Rights Commission appointment is pending at the Water Rights Commission Office.

Selection

1. HR Office filled thirteen (13) positions
2. Three (3) individuals transitioned from 90-day introductory to regular status employees
3. One (1) employee retired.
4. Zero (0) employees resigned
5. Two (2) employees were terminated
6. Two (2) employees' temporary positions ended September 30, 2020.

Though the Branch's offices are closed to the public, and there are no face-to-face meetings, during this quarter the HR office successfully recruited and filled thirteen (13) vacancies. The Judicial Branch programs, judicial districts, and Supreme Court have engaged in tele- or video-conference interviews. Onboarding and training for new hires is more hands-on through virtual methods, but our Branch supervisors and directors are thinking outside the box to bring on new employees.

Training

On August 31, 2020, the HR Office coordinated and assisted Judges and Justices' required annual ethics trainings. Retired Chief Justice Robert Yazzie conducted the 2-hour training.

Policy Development

The HR Office along with two staff attorneys worked on updating the Employee Policies and Procedures.

Other

1. From July to September 2020, the HR Office actively engaged in tracking for COVID-19 contacts or positive cases, using the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention ("CDC") guidance. Judicial Branch employees who have been exposed - primary and secondary contacts to COVID-19 cases - are placed on a 14-day self-quarantine status. HR follows up with employees on a weekly basis, to see if they have tested positive or have acquired COVID-19 symptoms. If test results are negative and/or there are no symptoms, the staff are allowed to return to work at the end of the 14-day period. If test results are positive, or the staff acquire symptoms, the 14-day self-quarantine timeframe is re-started, and they move to the positive case tracking.

Judicial Branch employees that test positive are placed on an initial 14-day self-quarantine status. HR follows up with the employees intermittently to see how they're doing. At the end of the 14-day period, if follow up test results are positive, or the staff have continued or experience increased symptoms, the 14-day self-quarantine timeframe is re-started. At the end of the second 14-day timeframe, if they test positive again from the follow up tests, the 14-day self-quarantine is re-started for a third time. This 14-day cycle continues until they test negative and/or their healthcare provider clears them to return to work. More recently, the area Navajo Nation health facilities have not been performing follow up tests. Instead, they are relying on the symptom-based guidance outlined by CDC: 3 days of no fever and respiratory symptoms have improved and 10 days have passed since symptoms began. Indian Health Services and '638 facilities are doing less follow up tests due to a limited supply of testing kits.

2. The HR Office provides customer service to applicants and staff regarding employee policies and procedures; assists supervisors with employee relations matters; completes bi-weekly timesheets on behalf of the JB; assists with closing and re-opening JB facilities exposed by the coronavirus; and, assists management in other areas as assigned, i.e., CARES Act plans and expenditures relating to staff health and safety.
3. The Chief Justice has assigned the task of investigating complaints about judicial districts to the HR Director. These investigations are ongoing and in progress.

F. PROBATION & PAROLE SERVICES (“PPS”)

A. Accomplishment of Objectives

According to Administrative Order 26-2020, Chief Justice Jayne had included in the administrative order to have the Judicial Branch staff prepare to return back to the office on August 3, 2020. Probation Services then focused on training with regards to safety issues at the office, using personal protection equipment (“PPE”) and other precautionary measures while at the office. We also invited Raquel Chee, Grants Manager, to introduce the Roadmap to Full Capacity presentation to the staff.

In addition, Chief Probation Officer instructed the Senior Probation Officers to communicate to their staff to continue online training through several webinars that focus on probation services; case management and monitoring during the pandemic. They, on their own time and schedules, meet with their regional staff and provide immediate updates and keep the staff abreast of information shared during the weekly Judicial Branch Meetings. Another important matter that we continuously remind staff is of the precautionary measures to abide by when in the judicial buildings and also to their persons and to ensure mask is worn while in Judicial buildings and to self with no exceptions.

PPS Management team began making preparations to order PPE for return to the office usage. However, that process was delayed and slow due to the amount of the orders that were coming through the procurement process. On the other hand, the Senior Probation Officers, Office Technicians and two Probation Officers worked diligently for the last month quoting and preparing orders and needs for probation staff. They were very proactive to ensure deadlines were met and followed orders through the procurement process.

Probation Services management team managed to expedite the probation service budget for FY 2020. We were able to close out majority of the line items and close out with 90+ percentage of funds in the PPS budget. We ran into an unfortunate situation where ending orders that were submitted were denied at AOC fiscal due to submission on their part in submitting to Office of the Control. Bottom line, we were able to close out FY 2020 with high percentage spent.

Probation Services was able to interview and fulfill four (4) vacant probation officer's position in this quarter for Crownpoint, Window Rock and Tuba City. PPS will have 4 additional staff to start off the new Fiscal Year 2021. Probation Services will have a full staff department beginning Fiscal Year 2021.

During the pandemic, Probation Services staff have been working diligently to ensure statutory required cases and administrative matters were adhered to. The Probation Management team continues to coordinate and plan for moving forward in terms of training and providing technical support during this time. The department resorted to staff attorneys for legal clarification and other statutory issues that arose with regards to clients and process. Probation Services will continue working through challenges, barriers and resort to alternative best practices applicable for client services. For example, having to monitor clients that need to complete Community Work Services. Avenues and alternatives were identified to ensure court orders were fulfilled.

Chief Probation Officer and management team have scheduled probation staff meeting in this last quarter to ensure staff are updated and informed of current events within the department as well as Judicial Branch. We are able to obtain concerns and issues with regards to equipment and supplies while staff is telecommuting from home. The monthly staff meetings help the communication aspect for management team to plan and coordinate needs for the staff. The monthly staff meeting will continue to be scheduled.

B. Other significant accomplishments

Because of continuation of Administrative Orders since March 19, 2020 due to COVID-19, probation staff continues to shelter at home and telecommute to ensure statutorily-required cases are followed through. Right now, due to the current administrative order, PPS staff continue to telecommute from home. There is no person on-call at the offices at this time. At some point, when it's feasible and safe, PPS will work towards a benchmark period that allows staff to slowly transition back into the offices, ensuring all components of the Roadmap to Full Capacity are met and sustained.

Currently, PPS staff continues telecommuting from their respective homes. The management team meets once a week for updates, coordination and plans to ensure the department continues a smooth flow of administrative processes and adheres to statutorily-required cases. We find that consistency and communication is key to ensure adequacy and efficiency.

Probation Services continues to address and ensure all staff have their docking station laptops and connectivity working properly, to ensure all equipment is working properly, and capabilities to connect for sufficient services from their homes are met. If not, we make sure those issues are communicated and addressed immediately to Judicial Branch IT Services. Staff is still waiting on another bulk order of portable printers that have been on order since May. Once the printers arrive and are distributed, staff will have full capabilities to work from home without challenges of making quick stops at the office for printing jobs.

Probation Officers continuously worked on their cases and continue to find innovative avenues to work with their clients. Probation staff expressed during their weekly reports that they too are learning from the current situation and how to work through barriers and find innovative ways to work with cooperating clients who are honest about fulfilling their court obligations.

Probation Services in this quarter decided it would be best to schedule monthly staff meetings to keep them updated of current circumstances. Updated information pertaining to the pandemic, current telecommuting status, administrative orders, and provided time to hear out staff addressing issues with the transition, work reassignment and the direction we are headed are communicated. We also give staff an opportunity to express their concerns and address moral supports among each other. That concept of support seems to help each other.

Moving into the 4th quarter, Chief Probation Officer met almost daily with the management team to work toward expending FY 2020 funds and meeting deadline dates. Purchases and transfer of funds from the business unit budget have been expended for PPE, equipment, modification to the buildings for safety issues and other imperative needs for a safe and sound working environment upon staff returning back to the office.

Chief Probation Officer continues to meet with the Senior Probation Officers and Office Technicians coordinating, planning and moving forward through this pandemic. Currently, we are working diligently to fulfill orders and needs using the CARES Act funds. There are trying times when we cross challenges and barriers but find avenues by working together and the support for each other is important. We then make the best of what is handed to us and put forth to continue moving the department forward.

Probation Staff in this quarter has completed FEMA courses. Again, they also continue to attend webinar trainings and submit their completion to the Judicial Branch Human Resources Department where it's placed in their personal file.

Chief Probation Officer and the Senior Probation Officers have attended the first round of the supervisory training scheduled as part of the training component that is included in the Roadmap to Full Capacity. This training was focused on the cultural aspects of decision making through the Peacemaking Program.

Chief Probation Officer also met with other judicial staff, listening, and supporting one another to get through these trying times. Staying connected with other Judicial staff was a support to have to ensure communication and coordination of moving forward was the focus. However, shelter in place was just as important to ensure the safety and well-being of staff.

Chief Probation Officer continued to work with outside agencies, local governmental departments with regards to finding avenues to work with clients.

Senior Probation Officer periodically scheduled meetings to update and provide technical support. Coordination of their supervision over staff was well arranged and communicated. There was never a time when staff were left without updates or accommodations to ensure effective, adequate and professional supervision of clients and people services were provided.

C. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

1. To coordinate new staff orientation and training.
2. To continue working with Senior Probations Officers, Office Technicians and AOC to identify needs and expend funds through the CARES Act.
3. To be available daily, listening, strategizing, supporting and addressing needs for PPS staff. Chief Probation Officer will continue to voice, advocate, support the needs of PPS during this pandemic.
4. To continue meeting with PPS staff, AOC, and other Judicial Branch management to ensure proper accommodations are adequate for staff while telecommuting.

VI. PEACEMAKING PROGRAM

A. Accomplishment of objectives set the previous quarter

The Program Coordinator has been active in the management team, participating in weekly Judicial Branch meetings. He also participates in Judicial updates, logistics, Peacemaking Program (“PMP”) staff meetings that will now be at least weekly. PMP smaller group administration meetings are weekly, and the hogan project has required discussions with staff and contractors regarding the project and health and safety related to it. The monthly Court Administrators meeting is also attended by the Program Coordinator. He has been working on revising the COOP reopening plan with Judicial Branch staff members with follow up information sharing in the PMP staff meeting. One follow-up discussion about CARES Act funding and allocations occurred during this period. The Coordinator continues to work on the strategic plan with discussion and document editing. Training was provided to the Utah Indian Affairs office on guardianship with about 80 attendees. The Coordinator was also part of the interview panel for the two Health and Safety Advisor candidates. A proposal for the Justice Assistance Grant includes work with Delegate Amber Crotty and others. Other traditional and Fundamental Law work included support for Shiprock Court regarding the hemp farm issues.

Peacemaking Services have been restricted just as all Navajo activities are. COVID-19 preventive measures through Administrative Orders and social distancing have made the work of our Traditional Program Specialists (“TPS”) more difficult or, in some cases, impossible as they now must realign the way they deliver services. Some of the restrictions, such as not being able to meet in person, are contrary to our traditional methods of healing.

The declaration of a public emergency has created sudden changes and in some cases families and individuals have been left with no readily available resource for traditional talking it out, counseling and guidance. Peacemaking program traditional program specialists are sought out due to their familiarity with outreach to elders in rural areas and explaining COVID-19. Since most elders only speak Navajo and follow traditions, they need culturally relevant information and support in our Navajo language.

Many TPS staff are relied upon as a resource for reliable information. All TPS have the ability to speak fluent Navajo language and provide traditional teachings. This has put many staff in a unique situation to do on the spot engagements. As we have moved into more serious progression of the epidemic, many staff are changing engagements from guidance to grieving. This is difficult as many TPS and staff have lost family members and are dealing with their own family. This type of response has tested each and every staff member who are relied upon to be readily available to the public for this type of assistance.

We have done work internally in support of healing the staff so they can support their communities. Sharing healing stories, traditional wellness and self-care have been topics of discussion among staff. Peacemaking staff has harvested their own medicinal herbs through appropriate means and distributed their herb harvest among staff for their use. Staff have shared encouragement through observations of the phases of the moon as times of prayer, offered support, and provided strength and social stability to draw upon. Most staff begin their daily check-ins at the time of Hayoolkaal offerings.

During upcoming First Quarter in FY 2021, we will prepare and deliver radio broadcast and community information to help the Navajo Nation advance through the COVID-19 tragedy toward healing, and unification in our communities. Since so many people have lost loved ones, PMP will provide community training in changing roles of relatives and Clan members, particularly for families that have lost members of their elder generation. Many middle-aged aunts and uncles are now serving in parental roles because their nieces and nephews have lost their parents.

Challenges for Peacemaking program during this pandemic and implementation of COOP have left their mark both with work impact and isolation. Telecommuting has tested program staff's ability to participate in telephonic meetings. Teleconference meetings were a means which the program relied upon pre-COVID, and which has been used successfully with staff calling in on their office phone. Switching to personal cell phones tested this capability with mixed success. The teleconference number was a number originating from Colorado. Some staff had personal cell phones that had long-distance capabilities, but some had phones with limited abilities. Switching to Skype for Business seems to be effective in communicating by phone. Some staff have limited to no internet at home making email next to impossible for staff to fully participate in emailed communications.

Some judicial districts being closed over a period of time means staff with limited or no home internet access have restricted communication, making it almost impossible to keep some staff members updated and engaged.

The program has resorted to mailing out hard copies of orders and memorandums to assure all staff have access to Judicial Branch information.

Those staff who have had ongoing active cases with students and providing truancy intervention services are having the same difficulties with school closures they had last school year. Students with limited means have difficulty addressing their educational needs. Youth with behavior problems find themselves home bound with potential repeats of family/parent conflicts.

Linking up people with traditional practitioners is another practice that has been placed on hold for the most part, though some connections are being made. There is a continuing need for healing of mind, body and soul. Staff feel that people in the most rural areas are left to their own devices with limited contacts. This is particularly troublesome when travel restrictions are put in place and no tribal transport is available to them.

Staff members in the Judicial Districts report individual accomplishments as they work to implement our mission. In Window Rock, ranchers were given advice about grazing disputes. Life Value Engagements have been done over the phone in Tuba City, including for some people referred by Probation. The Alamo District was also able to work with Probation on a referred case. Other TPS are responding by telephone to inquiries about family disharmony and community conflicts that seem to be made worse by COVID-19 stresses. Some TPS are following up with school administrators regarding youth programs, to keep this part of our mission in the minds of educators so the work can restart when possible.

Window Rock Family Court*, 11 Am. Tribal Law 41, 48 (Nav. Sup. Ct. 2012).

Also, for example, in 1982, the “Navajo Peacemaker Court was created by Navajo judges by vote of the Judicial Conference. The judges wanted to find an alternative to Anglo-American judicial methods that had roots in Navajo common law, and which could pull in Diné wisdom, methods and customs in resolving disputes.”

Supreme Court Hearing Virtual

A virtual Supreme Court hearing was held in September 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. A virtual, secured remote appearance program provided the services for the hearing. The Judicial Branch embarked upon and explored the use of remote appearances during the pandemic which can be expanded to all units of the Judicial Branch.

Supreme Court Case Disposition meetings

Now with a full Navajo Nation Supreme Court, Chief Justice JoAnn B. Jayne can effectively and efficiently effectuate the Navajo Nation Supreme Court Case Disposition Policy adopted in 2003 by then Chief Justice and two Associate Justices. This “policy for the Navajo Nation Supreme Court covers case research, writing, management and assignment and is based on longstanding common practices at the Supreme Court.” Honorable Emeritus Chief Justice Robert Yazzie, Associate Justice Marcella King-Ben, and Associate Justice Lorene Ferguson. This policy was adopted for the orderly and efficient disposition of cases with clear procedures and expectations. The meetings were held on July 10, 2020; July 24, 2020; August 7, 2020; August 10, 2020; September 4, 2020; September 11, 2020; September 14, 2020; September 17, 2020; September 18, 2020; September 24, 2020.

Fiscal Matters

The Judicial Branch’s proposal for funding from the CARES ACT was developed prior to this quarter; however, during this quarter, approval was made by the Navajo Nation Council and signed by President Nez on August 23, 2020. Valuable input from staff from all judicial district courts and programs were instrumental in its development and now, its implementation and expenditures.

The proposed Fiscal Year 2021 Navajo Nation General Funds Budget was created by Judicial Branch staff from all district courts, Peacemaking Program, and Probation and Parole in February 2020. All staff have been working endlessly on the CARES Act funding simultaneously with the FY 2021 General Funds budget. A. The Shiprock Judicial District personnel continues to provide essential services via phone, fax services, court’s email and postal office. The courthouse remains closed to the general public, and only two court personnel are working at the courthouse, and the executive staff are working by telecommute from home; however, there are times when executive staff members are required to work at the courthouse due to issues with portable printer and internet service at home. Greater percentage of court contacts are made through phone calls. The district is handling more phone calls daily.

J. TO’HAJIILEE - ALAMO JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishment of objectives set the previous quarter

A. Finalize the Draft Preparedness Plan for Alamo and To’hajiilee Judicial Districts.

According to the Administrative Order no. 26-2020, each court and program was ordered by the Chief Justice JoAnn Jayne to fully assess the ability to begin providing additional services beyond essential services and shall provide a report to the COOP coordinator by July 30, 2020, on the feasibility of providing these additional services, even if in telecommuting mode. (Administrative Order, 2020 May 19, retrieved from: <http://www.navajocourts.org/AdminOrders/AO-26-20.pdf>).

The final Alamo Judicial District and the To’Hajiilee Judicial District’s “Preparedness Plan” was developed during the last quarter of this fiscal year with court staff and other Court Administrators, as well as the Administrative Office of the Court’s COOP (Continuity of Operations Plan) Coordinator Stephen Etcitty and his team members on July 31, 2020. The final plan was published on August 7, 2020, to all staff. The purpose of the local Preparedness Plan is to make the gating criteria and reporting requirements easy and user-friendly so it contains checklists and infographic information. All staff were trained on the particular sections either in person via internet communication through Skype for Business, telephone (cell), or videos that were uploaded into the Alamo - To’Hajiilee SharePoint. The SharePoint also has weekly updates and is organized in a way for all pieces of information to be accessible and downloadable. Many of our staff that are telecommuting have no internet access or even laptops, therefore to encourage social distancing and “Sheltering in place,” Court Administrator opted to do videos and posted them in the SharePoint.

The Alamo- To’Hajiilee Judicial Districts’ Preparedness plan contains:

- i. District court goals
- ii. Facts about COVID 19 from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), World Health Organization (WHO) and New Mexico Department of Health (NMDOH) with appropriate links
- iii. Work schedule beginning August 3, 2020, to increase court services that has appropriate social distancing considerations i.e. personnel work staggered shift schedules for each court
- iv. COVID-19 testing information in Socorro and Bernalillo County and at the tribal health Centers: Canoncito Band of Navajo Health Center (CBNHC), Alamo Navajo Health Center (Alamo Navajo School Board).
- v. COVID-19 questions for staff asking for activities concerning high risks and testing and the reporting requirements, quarantine requirements if the answer is “yes” to any of the questions.
- vi. Front lobby log
- vii. Written instructions for public on masks, temperature taking and how important it is for us to gather telephone, e mail addresses for purposes of contact tracing

- viii. In Person hearings checklist for staff (gating criteria on whether or not to have in person hearings)
- ix. Staff workplace checklist
- x. CDC Cleaning Guide
- xi. Personal Protection Equipment (“PPE”) Levels- when to use face shields and gowns, etc. in addition to the mandatory face covering utilization by all who enter the building

We harmonized our plan with the COOP’s “Roadmap to Full Capacity” planning document that was given to all the Judicial Districts in the Navajo Nation in July 2020. Raquel Chee with the AOC provided presentations to the Judicial Branch judges and court staff in July 2020 which had much of the same information.

The Alamo Judicial District and the To’Hajiilee Judicial District’s preparedness plan has the following goals identified:

1. Provide a safe working environment for Judicial Branch employees at To’Hajiilee/ Alamo Courts.
2. Keep the COVID-19 virus out of the building to protect workers and/or the public.
3. Establish guidelines that are harmonized with the COOP “Roadmap” policies.

In the previous quarter during this health pandemic, the court staff, probation officer and Peacemaking Traditional specialists worked on planning a “reopening” plan for August 2020, so the plan was refined and updated. Beginning in August 2020, the staff work schedule changed from one person per week to clerks being available part time, to increase work on the court cases and scheduling of court cases.

B. Train staff on disinfecting, prevention of COVID-19 spread

Court administrator updated information for staff after reviewing the World Health Organization’s Briefing on COVID-19 on July 7, 2020. They reported that the COVID-19 is more infectious than previously informed.

On July 8, 2020, Court Administrator provided training to To’Hajiilee Court Clerk Tanya Chavez about the district plan for entering the building i.e. lobby procedures, washing hands, use of sanitizers. Staff schedule beginning in August 2020 will include that she works the mornings from Mondays through Fridays. Also, the Court Administrator went over testing procedures for essential staff.

During this quarter, court clerk staff were testing the Skype for Business apps for the recording of hearings and the utilization of the cellular Ipads for the hearings scheduled. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse and Staff Attorney Alisha Thompson helped clerks to use their Skype for Business and Ipads. This was ongoing one on one training throughout this quarter.

The SharePoint sub site for the court files was established during this quarter. Department of Information Technology SharePoint Architect Coralene Austin assisted Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse with establishing a separate sub site only accessible by the clerks for Ramah, Alamo and To’Hajiilee, the Staff attorneys and Judge to access files based on the COOP devolution plan.

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse keeps updating staff and SharePoint throughout this quarter by checking data on the New Mexico COVID 19 website and the Navajo Nation website, as well as the To'Hajiilee Chapter Facebook that has the incident command reports.

Court Administrator attended the National Incident Management System (NIMS) training at Lesson No. 2 on July 20, 2020 through an online course on FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Administration). In 2006, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse completed the Continuity of Operations (COOP) Program Managers Train-the-Trainer Course. To update here FEMA Emergency management institute, she is taking the NIMS course again.

On July 23, 2020, Court Administrator attended a Webinar, "Equity Through Public Health Law, CDC Public Health Law Program and the National Leadership Academy for the Public's Health," which provided information on the impact of social determinants of health in a community, such as regulations for safe food, clean water, healthy housing conditions, medications and chemicals, OSHA and medical practice. The speakers discussed how important it is to have better health outcomes but there are larger social and political systems that often become barriers to that goal. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse continued to update herself on COVID-19 through the internet.

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse informs staff when there are New Mexico Department of Health COVID=19 testing in the To'Hajiilee community. However, Commander Varga at Canoncito Band of Navajo Health center has stated that any court staff can test using the rapid test (15 min) at any time, and this was confirmed with him in person on July 28, 2020 at the NMDOH COVID 19 test site when Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse went to get tested. That information was relayed to all staff. The Alamo Health center also has testing available to Alamo court staff for employment purposes.

On August 25, 2020, Court Administrator sent out emails to staff on COVID-19 guidelines, how to stay safe, wash hands and stay home again. Court staff also attended the online "Roadmap to Full Capacity" training provided by Raquel Chee, Administrative Office of the Court's COOP (Continuity of Operations) team member and grant administrator. This training outlined the COOP's goal of providing essential services to the community through the trial courts at the same time maintaining worker safety against COVID-19. The roadmap provided important information about worker safety, worker survey, phases of reopening, guidelines for reopening and the application processes, to name a few.

All the court staff have access to Fred Pryor Seminars that was paid out of the general funds for each business unit. The Fred Pryor Seminars Learning online modules provide 17,000 plus training options, live and online to provide learning needs at the convenience of staff. Retrieved from: <https://www.pryor.com/login/>. During this quarter, some of the staff attended COVID-19 training modules online through Fred Pryor:

1. 7/14/20 and 9/21/20 – Return to Work after Quarantine – taking Remote Work Lesson into the office – Caroline Padilla, Regina Roanhorse, Racquel Hurley (Fred Pryor Seminars) Ms. Padilla writes: talks about how to use work from home habits and reincorporate into working at the office. Have daily or weekly meetings to update co-workers; use skills that you learned at home on troubleshooting PC, printers and other office equipment that you had to fix without IT help.

2. 8/25/20 and 8/27/20 – A Post COVID-19 World Planning the Transition Back to Work – Caroline Padilla, Regina Roanhorse (Fred Pryor Seminars) Caroline writes: Steps to consider reopening for business since the pandemic impacted the daily life, including travel, trade, tourism, food supplies and financial markets. Should consider signage templates for staff when they come back to work and public when they come to your work to do business; e-mail and retain acknowledgement of reading the documents; email templates for correspondence. Make a set of rules: no personal contact by social distancing. Encourage no sharing pens, notebooks, file folders, computers and anything else that can be assigned without sharing. Essential equipment should be sanitized after each use to protect each other. Reorganize floor plan that will maximize 6 ft. distance. Get rid of common gathering areas; water fountains, kitchen and smoking areas by quickly eating or schedule breaks to allow one at a time accessibility. Create a hand sanitizing station complete with cleaning supplies. Post communal equipment cleaning rules at each essential equipment used by multiple staff. Create appropriate face mask rules and update your employee handbook with your new policies. Limit the number of people in a closed room; post a number of people in each room and try to host meetings virtually. Break the 9-5 workdays, adjust hours of operation to manage public health. How to handle employees returning to work after testing positive for COVID-19. How to deal with staff that do not want to return to work due to their fear of getting sick and other reasons. What is allowed to terminate staff and should always consult with staff attorney.

3. 8/26/20 – How to set Expectations for Remote Employees – Caroline Padilla (Fred Pryor Seminars) Ms. Padilla writes: figure out the new routine for the new world by planning a schedule and list what needs to be done with priorities and so on down the line. Make sure staff know what is expected of them. Daily schedule and use as a time record for pay. Plan weekly conference calls and when it's going to happen. Check in with staff to see how they are doing and if they need help with assignments. Also have daily check-ins in the morning either by calling in or computer check-ins. Work at home distraction is different from the work environment and should be worked out with employees. Keep in mind when everyone can be available to make it for the meeting and use a recurring time and keep a solid agenda and email it ahead of time so they can be prepared for the meeting, set a time for each attendees to address the items on the agenda. Most businesses that are used to remote workers have meetings on video just so they have a somewhat live meeting for mental health. All virtual meetings will always have problems getting the meeting started, if all else fails restart the meeting. How to take care of yourself during this pandemic: mentally, get enough sleep to reduce anxiety and stress. Take numerous breaks by walking around outside or around the block to reduce stress and to reenergize yourself. Take a moment and call a personal friend or family to chat with them to take a break. Exercise as much as possible. Watch your nutrition by having a plan to buy groceries for two weeks at a time. Set up self-care challenges with staff and give prizes at the end of the month to keep staff motivated and focused. Much to be learned by the changing of our lifestyle. Some are negative and some are positive and HR needs to be cognizant of distractions for each staff will be different and will present legal issues.

4. 9/8/20 - Returning to Work after Quarantine- Employees: Post COVID-19 Career Planning - Tanya Chavez (Fred Pryor Seminars) The COVID-19 pandemic has caused many of us to reevaluate our jobs. Maybe you've decided to take a step back and spend more time with your family. Or maybe it's just the opposite: you need a promotion because you're the sole earner in your house now. Whatever the case may be, in this program, we'll help you decide what your next steps should be, as you reenter your career in this post-COVID quarantine world. We'll go over signs to help you determine if a step back is a good idea, and what that might look like. We'll also go over ways to step forward in your career and seek a promotion or raise.

2. Other Significant Accomplishments

A. Tribal Law and Policy Institute - Healing to Wellness Court Enhancement Training & Presentation: Navajo Veterans Outreach Project. On September 29, 2020, Court Administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse provided an online presentation of the Alamo Judicial District and To'Hajiilee Judicial District's Healing to Wellness Court's enhancement project which is called the Veterans Justice Outreach program. Retrieved from: <https://www.enhancementtraining.org/> Archived recording of presentation is here: https://zoom.us/rec/play/j0L_e9VIHRjm2Q_1AWQpFn93IpI5oGDeQ1iJAX4CYpCbbspGEMCN97ICo5q5ckpcrWANz29C1ZffL5A.1KYwAqE1SXH5QbER?continueMode=true&xzm_rtaid=TZkVQJypQsqLQtknO6s7Zw.1601587761578.d45ee73653849a3dd1f33d5d64923912&xzm_rhtaid=796

From 2011 to the present, the district courts Care Coordinator (now vacant) and the Court Administrator worked on several projects all increasingly moving forward to build a system to support Native American justice involved veterans in their contact with on and off reservation justice systems. The wellness court model is a problem solving specialty court that is supported by the restorative justice model. There are presently amendments to the criminal code and the Diné fundamental laws that support rehabilitation and treatment as an alternative sentence. The model builds on outreach to veterans who are unable or do not know how to apply for their service connected disability benefits through the Veteran's Affairs. Further, "veterans" that are not applying for their benefits are part of the 80 percent of American Indian and Alaskan Natives who have no service connected disability to make them eligible for health, education, burial and other benefits. Ms. Roanhorse provided a detailed PowerPoint with photos of the project's attempt from 2014 to the present time to build systems of care using the VA and Indian Health Service's Memorandum of Understanding, whereby VA reimburses I.H.S. for direct service care that they provide for veterans on the Navajo Reservation. The Veterans Justice Outreach project was the first Native American project to promote the idea of developing veteran's treatment courts on the reservation using restorative justice models and laws that encourage treatment and rehabilitation. The 110-chapter veteran's organizations are also part of that model to build a new Peer Support project which is currently a new grant funded by the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance, Indian Alcohol grant that Court Administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse wrote in 2018. The grant is frozen due to some technical issues at the Navajo tribal government level, but the program stands ready to continue the work with Navajo veterans in the eastern Navajo agency 32 chapters to become "peer supports" for on and off reservation courts and/or specialty courts particularly in McKinley County. This effort to develop problem solving courts has been ongoing since 2011 when the first of several USDOJ grants were awarded to the district to address the high death rates of justice-involved defendants with alcohol and drug addictions. Veteran's treatment courts are very successful due to the fact that veterans are trained with a duty to serve and protect value. For the efficacy rates and for information on veteran's treatment courts please visit the Justice for Vets website. <https://justiceforvets.org/what-is-a-veterans-treatment-court/>

The new Peer Support grant will fund a care coordinator to continue work with the Veteran Service organizations in Navajo Nation for the purpose of building a peer support network. Veterans respond favorably to other veterans, and so community based networking will aid any court whether it is tribal or state court for our Navajo veterans who live in the Navajo Nation.

Court staff also attended the following at the Enhancement training which will also have a recording of the presentations for free:

- 9/28/20 - 9/30/20– Tribal Law and Policy Institute –

B. State Veteran's Treatment Court

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse provided technical assistance to Judge Peterson with the McKinley County courts, 2nd Judicial District, with the development of a veteran's treatment court on July 16, 2020. Provided the Judge and court staff as well as the public defender with information on how to engage the Indian Health Services for the treatment component and what constitutes care under VA guidelines i.e. service connected disability. Since they are just in the planning stages, the Court Administrator offered some assistance for the future of the treatment court. Others on the call include the VA's Veterans Justice Outreach coordinator Camilla Lopez and Carol Scott, as well as representatives from the Vet Center (Robertson Yazzie) and the Veterans organizations on Navajo Nation: Raphael and Hubert Smith.

C. Navajo Nation Child Advocacy Center

Court administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse was contacted by Hon. Delegate Amber Crotty to assist the Navajo Nation with developing a child advocacy center. Online meetings were held on September 23 and 29, 2020 with the Navajo Division of Social Services, Navajo Nation Chief Prosecutor, Delegate Crotty, Administrative Office of the Courts Grants Manager Raquel Chee, Solicitor for Judicial Branch William Morris, and law enforcement concerning this initiative. Delegate Crotty presented a budget of $1.2 million to the group to develop an initiative to address child abuse & neglect, child sexual assault and child victim issues in the Navajo Nation. Court Administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse provided some recommendations for the judiciary including the review of business mapping and bench cards. A multidisciplinary approach works best with these cases given the experiences of success for these types of cases, said Ms. Roanhorse. In the proposed budget there will be funds for a prosecutor, victim advocate and funding for strategic planning using the foundation of the Diné Action Plan and building upon that planning document as offered by Ms. Chee from Judicial Branch. The Executive Branch departments coordinating these efforts are going to schedule more interagency collaborative online discussions in FY 2021.

D. New Mexico Children’s Court Improvement Commission

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse attended the New Mexico Children’s Court Improvement Commission meeting on July 16, 2020. The CASA assessment and Family Representation Task force report was reviewed and other matters with the Administrative Office of the Courts for New Mexico.

E. Judicial Branch Strategic Plan

On August 25, 2020, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse and other court administrators along with Raquel Chee, Grant Administrator, reviewed the paragraphs in the strategic plan to provide input for changes. On September 1, 2020, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse participated in a review of the Judicial Branch Strategic Plan as it pertains to the case management goal and objectives. Several court administrators and facilitator Raquel Chee worked on the section to strengthen it.

F. Operation Lady Justice Virtual Tribal Consultation BIA Region Western & Navajo

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse attended the tribal consultation on the Violence Against Women Act (“VAWA”) grants and the Missing and Murdered Indigenous women problem on September 2, 2020. In attendance from Navajo Nation was Council Delegate Amber Crotty. Data was provided and the challenges of working with limited funding by those who gave information via the online consultation.

G. Dikos Ntsaaígíí-Náhást’éits’áadah, COVID- 19

In this quarter, from September 17 to the 23rd, 2020, the Canoncito Band of Navajo Health Center reported a “cluster” outbreak of COVID-19 cases in the To’Hajiilee Community. The clerk of the court in Alamo reported a cluster outbreak of 11 in Alamo. Due to that, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse informed staff to continue to shelter in place, wash hands, social distance and disinfect. Staff were tested from To’Hajiilee and Alamo and there were no positive tests. Since the facilities were still closed to the lobby entrance, there was no large risk of infection to staff inside the building.

COVID-19 pandemic has created opportunities for the Alamo Judicial District and the To’Hajiilee Judicial District to use technology for telecommuting, which is to work outside the brick and mortar of the court facilities, conduct hearings for essential cases, conduct planning and work sessions for court staff, discuss flexibility of court rules and procedures, and to connect with community through telephone, Google Voice phone (VOIP), email, and video conferencing applications like Skype for Business, Free Conference Call, CourtCall and Cisco WebEx. It requires court clerks, administrative staff and the Judge to learn these software applications to increase their services while remaining socially distant and sheltered in place during this rollercoaster ride of a pandemic and ever increasing infection rates in Bernalillo County and Socorro County of New Mexico where our tribal courts are located. It also required a unique position that the Court Administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse had to take in being attached to the public health systems in order to manage a safe work environment during lockdowns, curfews, and local surges of infections. This additional responsibility of public health coordination or organizing schedules, activities and even monitoring individual employee behavior in high risk activities has been stressful. The lives of the employees and reducing harm to them has been an education in behavioral science, health education, environmental health, epidemiology, and stress management for all court staff while maintaining a level of court access to the community and balancing case management. This is exasperated by court staff that have underlying health conditions that would expose them to potential death. There was no initial roadmap at the beginning of this quarter until more public health information was provided and shared through the internet. We had to adjust given what we had, and in our Judicial Districts that included a low level of operational funding for Alamo and To'Hajiilee Business Units. We had to plan with what we had, even forage for disinfectant wipes and sanitizers with our local tribal programs. The Court Administrator continued to sew masks and provide them to the court staff until PPE could be found in any store in Albuquerque as they were often lacking in sanitizers, masks, etc. as it should be allocated to hospitals and clinics first.

Award of $75K for Health and Justice in To'Hajiilee:

In the 3rd quarter of the fiscal year 2020, Court Administrator worked with the Canoncito Band of Navajo Health Center on their Centers for Disease Control CARES Act funding proposal and out of that initiative, the court received sanitizers. During this quarter, the Court Administrator helped the CBNHC write another mini-grant for $75,000 for Enhancing Tribal Prevention of Suicide, Intimate Partner Violence and Adverse Childhood Events during the COVID 19 Pandemic. The funding is managed by the Albuquerque Area Indian Health Board. In this funding, the Peacemaking Program will be providing training via Cisco WebEx to community using their Life Value Engagement curriculum that was successful in previous Wellness Court and Peacemaking Teen Court initiatives in To'Hajiilee, NM. It will also include training community volunteers to assist domestic violence victims on how to fill our Pro Se Domestic Abuse Protection applications/petitions in the To'Hajiilee District Court. Court Administrator Regina Begay-Roanhorse reviewed the proposed application and edited for submission. The award was announced on September 30, 2020.

The Administrative Office of the Courts for Alamo Judicial District and the Administrative Office of the Courts for To'Hajiilee Judicial District have been manned by three individuals: the Court Administrative Regina Begay Roanhorse, Alamo Office Technician Racquel Hurley, and Office Technician Lorenda Joe. These three individuals have been instrumental in purchasing and managing support services for all the court staff. The environment in which they worked was very risky and deadly. When the dust settles, these three individuals will most certainly have the special expertise in court management and health administration management that will not go unnoticed but will not be forgotten by the court staff.

H. ALAMO JUDICIAL DISTRICT Administrative Office of the Courts

The Alamo Judicial District Administrative Office of the Courts for district and family trial courts consists of the Court Administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse and Racquel Hurley, Office Technician for Alamo Judicial District, Business unit 102014. We worked on end of year purchases to support staff for telecommuting, remaining in shelter, and social distancing during the COVID 19 pandemic. This included purchasing cellular Ipads for the two court clerks and ensuring staff had access to appropriate Personnel Protective Equipment.

Telecommuting includes working from the internet, with email and cell phone. This quarter was particularly active due to the budget transfers, end of year closing timelines for fees/fines accounts, and the increased usage of the “6B Procurement Process.” The increased usage of the 6B Procurement process suggests that there will be a better audit trail for all purchases for the Alamo Business Unit. However, the challenge in the Socorro and Bernalillo counties of New Mexico where vendors are located for the Alamo Family and District Courts is that these vendors do not accept Navajo Nation Purchase Orders.

Other challenges with the 6B process is coordination with the Administrative Office of the Court’s financial section where they have to get the authorizing signatures for the purchases. We also need a “receiver” for our goods which we thought was the AOC financial department but we were told to use the same staff in our district. This all needs to be worked out for FY 2021 to strengthen and streamline our processes. The office technician for To’Hajiilee Business Unit Lorenda Joe is not authorized to be a receiver on the FMIS.

During our training in November 2019, with the Office of the Controller, they did state that if there are no vendors for the area where the business unit is located, that they can use their “PCard” or operations purchase card. In Alamo, New Mexico, there are no vendors that accept a Purchase Order. Alamo is located 62 miles from To’Hajiilee and approximately 110 miles from Albuquerque if you travel a partially improved road through Laguna Pueblo or 65 miles from Socorro, which has limited vendors in the small town. There is one small store at the Alamo community but they do not take purchase orders. Therefore, in order to execute the purchasing power of the Alamo Business Unit at 100%, that would require the Office Technician and the Court Administrator to travel to Window Rock for supplies which is more than a 5 to 6-hour drive, depending on weather conditions. Therefore, the Court Administrator requested for the return of the Pcard but was denied by the Administrative Office of the Courts based on the fact that it is a small court. This is not a small court. It is a trial court with family and district cases. It is located in a frontier area of the satellite community of Alamo, NM, and is severely underfunded and underserved by the Judicial Branch. If any business unit needs their Purchase Card, it’s the Alamo business unit.

I. Lack of Purchasing Power for Alamo Business Unit

The “operations p card” was taken away from the Alamo Judicial District Courts (BU 102014) in 2019 when the Court Administrator was on medical leave. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse requested the return of the purchase card in January 2020 in order to re-establish the 100% purchasing power it use to have in FY2019. However, the card has never been returned so the purchasing power for Alamo business unit is 0.00% which is a disparity for the purchase of needed equipment during a pandemic to support the court staff. According to Yvonne Arviso Gorman, at the Administrative Office of the Court's financial office, during a weekly Judicial Branch call, the operations Pcard was returned to at least one AOC financial staff during this pandemic.

J. TO'HAIJILEE JUDICIAL DISTRICT Administrative Office of the Courts

Court Administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse and Office Technician Lorenda Joe worked on a large purchase for the Alamo and To'Hajiilee court staff for laptops using the 6B procurement process. Ms. Joe also worked on getting quotes for personnel protective equipment, Ipads, and other purchases for the To'Hajiilee business unit. She has the operations PCard and shares it with Alamo. During this quarter, she prepared a memorandum to transfer funds to support the staff purchases and also assisted with updating the in house ledger.

Budget transfers and End of Fiscal Year planning- 6B process

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse, Office Technician Racquel Hurley for the Alamo Judicial District and Office Technician Lorenda Joe for To'Hajiilee reviewed their in-house budget ledgers and reconciled with the Administrative Office of the Court's ledgers to determine funding available to purchase laptops, more cellular Ipads, cell service, and digital recorders. These are equipment we need for the provision of essential services during a world-wide pandemic. Due to the procurement process otherwise known as "6B", we worked diligently on these budget transfers, inputting data into FMIS to get Purchase Requisitions and Purchase orders issued. We worked with Sandra Dalgai at the Administrative Office of the Courts.

K. CARES Act

Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, P.L. 116-136

On July 31, 2020, the Navajo Nation Council approved $650 million in immediate expenditures for the CARES Act pandemic mitigation and relief funds by tribal council resolution No. 0144-20. On August 18, 2020, Navajo Nation President Jonathan Nez approved more than $475 million of a $651 million spending bill passed in late July by the Navajo Nation Council for addressing the COVID-19 pandemic. Of that amount, Judicial Branch received $9,633,863 in emergency management funds for personnel, meeting expenses, supplies, Communications & Utilities, repairs and maintenance, contractual services, special transactions and capital outlay for Window Rock court. On August 26, 2020, the Judicial Branch program and court administrators met to plan on how to expend those approved expenses by December 31, 2020 in compliance with strict federal guidelines. The deadline to submit quantities of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) i.e. masks, gloves, face shields, etc. by district was August 31, 2020. Alamo and To'Hajiilee Judicial Districts submitted their lists based on staffing and need for six months.

CARES ACT Expenditures

The Judicial Branch worked on an expenditure planning action plan on August 26, 2020.

L. FY 2021 Budget for Alamo Judicial District and To'Hajiilee Judicial district

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse was told on July 28, 2020 that the FY 21 budgets for our districts will be submitted using the "same" amount budgeted from last year's projections to FY 21. This seems fair, said Yvonne Arviso Gorman. However, Court Administrator Regina Begay Roanhorse, requested that the funding for the bailiff as a "cost savings" remain with Alamo business unit. The position of bailiff will be funded through a K account and not through general funds so there was a $50 K cost savings in general funds. The hope was that the Alamo Judicial District could re-distribute those cost saving funds to operations. If the previous budget included that amount as stated by Ms. Arviso Gorman, then there would be $50K in the Alamo Budget. That was not the case. The funds were moved elsewhere, unknown where. So, in the end, the $50 K covered the additional 8 hours required for FY 21 budget for the entire branch because the Budget instructions included that in their manual, which was an aberrant instruction never before had in our budget formulation process. Therefore, no other business unit benefited from that cost saving, particularly Alamo Judicial District. Instead, the funds required personnel costs for 8 hours per person in all BUs. But, this is the practice of the Administrative Office of the Courts. They say you will get the “same” amount...but not if you are the Alamo Courts.

So we were told to submit last minute budgets to the Administrative Office of the Courts using a tribal resolution proposal and not the official BIM. I waited until the BIM was issued to do my budgets and that is why there was a last minute amendment to correct personnel with this funding. I don't do the calculations for personnel, they are done by the Human Resources Office. Perhaps in the future, we should be highly ethical and actually read and use the official BIM. All around this was a very disturbing way of submitting the budgets at the last minute.

M. Need for Court Clerk position at To'Hajiilee

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse requested for a court clerk for To'Hajiilee courts. In the past the Human Resource Director Cheron Watchman stated that the district does not need a clerk and that the Office Technicians can be used. Chief Justice JoAnn Jayne stated thereafter that the Court Administrators know what people they need for their trial courts. Therefore, I made a request for a clerk position because we have only one clerk in To'Hajiilee. I need another clerk during this pandemic for example to assist with cases and is evident as a problem if the clerk somehow becomes incapacitated. However, again, since the budget process didn't include that discussion (see above), I did not have an opportunity.

N. Equipment

On July 17, 2020, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse picked up the “cellular iPads” for the essential service staff of three (3) clerks and two (2) office technicians for the Alamo Judicial District and the To'Hajiilee Judicial District. These are devices that assist with “hotspots” for laptops and works as a phone for these staff.

O. Technology

Alamo court clerks Caroline Padilla and Miranda Apachito, To'Hajiilee court Clerk Tanya Chavez, Office Technicians Racquel Hurley and Lorenda Joe, Staff Attorney Alisha Thompson and Court Administrator attended the CourtCall platform for online hearings on September 15, 2020. Previous to that, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse received laptops for the two judicial districts from Court Call to use for future hearings. These laptops were picked up in Window Rock on September 4, 2020.

The Alamo Judicial District and To'Hajiilee Judicial District Court clerks, office technicians, Court Administrator and Staff Attorney obtained Google Voice phone numbers in order to text and call via internet for the purpose of maintaining privacy of personal cell numbers with the public but also to increase communication with the cellular iPads that work like a phone, to face time and to text in late July 2020.

The Judicial Districts also worked on a public sub site of SharePoint for arraignments but it was determined by Navajo Department of Information Technology that would be unsecure, so we decided to let that go as an idea.

On August 18, 2020, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse had a Skype for Business call with Navajo Department of Information Technology to get approval for Cisco WebEx as a conference app and the app was approved by Mr. Alex Largie.

The clerks from Alamo and the Court Administrator checked to see if Skype for Business invites can be used when there is no internet, i.e. from the phone, and this test was done on August 26, 2020. If the Judge is on Skype, it will work from the phone.

P. Dikos Ntsaaígíí-Náhást'éits'áadah. COVID – 19 GRANT PROPOSALS:

1. CARES Act “Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act”, P.L. 116-136

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse put together a grant writing – funding proposal for the Information Technology group last quarter in January 2020 in a response to the Coordinated Tribal Assistance Solicitation (USDOJ). However, the IT writing group elected to pass on the funding proposal because they had not organized their goals and objectives and were unfamiliar with grant management. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse continued to meet with Navajo Nation Department of IT services staff Alex Largie, Sonia Nez, Royetta Woodie and Radford Ashley to develop a template or toolkit for pending and future grant applications. There were actually two that were significant during this quarter. Last quarter, we worked on goals, objectives, and the logic model. For this quarter we put much of the information we already put together for the CARES Act (Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act”, P.L. 116-136) funding and for the USDOJ CTAS (Coordinated Tribal Assistance Solicitation – COVID 19) grants.

The narrative, timeline, logic model and budget were uploaded into the federal grant management web portal by the Judicial Branch Grant Administrator Raquel Chee. The team did a great job in preparing the tools.

Further, the group worked on a timeline and budget of need for the Coronavirus Relief Fund. The CARES Act established a $150 billion Coronavirus Relief Fund and the U.S. Department of the Treasury made payments to state and tribal governments for expenditures incurred due to the public health emergency for the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID -19) or Dikos Ntsaaígíí-Náhást'éits'áadah.

The Navajo Nation government's public health and regulatory authorities issued sixteen (16) Public Health Emergency Orders beginning March 18, 2020. (Retrieved from: <https://www.ndoh.navajo-nsn.gov/COVID-19>). In summary, some of the orders required residents to “shelter in place” i.e. stay home except for activities at essential business and for essential government functions. Some Orders required a curfew during certain hours of each day or for certain weekends. Many Navajo Nation programs and schools were closed due to the contagious and deadly nature of the infections and deadly disease nature of COVID-19. All of them ordered implementation of public health disaster responses such as the wearing of face coverings, social distancing, washing hands and other prevention efforts, due to the community human to human spread of COVID -19, and the resulting infections, hospitalizations and resulting deaths.

The COVID-19 and resulting need for “telecommuting” for Navajo Nation departments and schools, including Judicial Branch courts/programs, required the need to adopt policies and procedures for telecommuting. The Alamo and To’Hajiilee courts “closed” the doors to the court facilities. However, the courts continued to receive all filings by e mail, fax, mail or drop boxes. This created a need for more Information Technology resources to be deployed including necessary software and equipment. Since the Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse was already working with Navajo Department of IT services last quarter on their funding proposal goals, it was only fitting that Ms. Roanhorse and the Navajo DIT team to submit a proposal for the CTAS and the CARES Act funding.

The Navajo DIT has stated that their services are “life” for many departments in the Navajo Nation so they named their project “Technology is Life”. The Department of Homeland Security’s cybersecurity and infrastructure security agency issued a joint alert that warned everyone that during this pandemic, there are “advanced persistent threat groups” that are working to exploit by cybercriminal means all information for medium enterprises and large organizations through scams and phishing e mails. These cybersecurity threats are real and organizations have been asked to pay millions of dollars in cyber script to retrieve their data. Since the Navajo DIT provides the network for important software and data for schools, courts, law enforcement and health agencies across the Navajo Nation, their proposal consisted of purchasing email security appliance software services to block email borne threats, such as malware, spam and phishing attempts.

Staff Attorney Alisha Thompson helped as well when she edited and provided input into the grant narrative.

The group also worked on the CARES act funding that was appropriated to the Navajo Nation. A timeline was developed and a separate budget for additional software was submitted to the Navajo Nation Council for consideration. The Judicial Branch provided the submission to the Council.

This is a great example of interagency collaboration, coordination, communication and cooperation between the Executive Branch and Judicial Branch departments that not only serves the courts but also serves other departments within the 110 Chapter represented tribal governments.

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse attended two webinars on submission of CARES Act funding proposals on April 15, 2020 and April 22, 2020. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse met with the IT staff and Raquel Chee, Grant Administrator via Skype for Business on: 4/23/20; 4/24/20; 4/28/20; 4/29/20; 5/4/20; 5/6/20; 5/15/20, 5/18/20 and 5/19/20. For the CARES act we met on June 3 and 9, 2020 for the “timeline” work and completed it. The budget was adjusted for the CARES act funding.

2. Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2020 (P.L. 116-123)

The Canonicito Band of Navajo Health Center’s COVID -19 response for community was an important issue for the To’Hajiilee courts. They needed assistance with grant writing because the Centers for Disease Control was rolling out funding for tribal 638 health centers. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse helped the health providers, CEO, consultant and staff put together a proposal. Although the funding was available since early April, the Canonicito Band of Navajo Center did not begin to work on it until mid May because it was due at the end of May 2020. So Ms. Roanhorse's assistance was fast tracked into two weeks for a $1.5 million proposal through the Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2020 (P.L. 116-123), which was passed March 6, 2020, to combat the spread of the coronavirus disease. As part of this funding appropriation there was more than $2.2 billion in public health funding to aid in prevention, preparedness and response efforts and $1 billion for medical supplies, health care preparedness, as well as billions for outreach and development of vaccines and international support and funding for community health centers and medical surge capacity. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse assisted the CBNHC with a funding proposal of $1.5 million that would reimburse them for expenses incurred to address the COVID 19 virus in a noncompetitive grant supporting tribal public health capacity in Coronavirus preparedness and response. (Retrieved from: <https://www.cdc.gov/tribal/cooperative-agreements/covid-19.html>). Although the effort was two weeks before the funding was due, the Albuquerque Area Indian Health Board and the To'Hajiilee Chapter officials requested the Court Administrator's assistance due to the successful wellness court and teen court activities that have occurred in To'Hajiilee community. The CEO and the consultant were able to upload the budget, and narrative to reimburse their expenses for signs, protective gear, and to purchase more equipment and testing materials to support the community response to COVID-19.

Q. Alamo Judicial District and To'Hajiilee Judicial District COVID 19 Preparedness Planning

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse and Staff Attorney Alisha Thompson worked on the local policies and procedures for the court staff in responding to the COVID 19 pandemic while ensuring that community have access to justice at the court facilities. We closed the doors to the facility but provided staff on a daily basis to process filings and answer phone calls concerning all case types (Civil, Criminal, Traffic Civil, Traffic Criminal, Domestic Violence, Family, Dependency, Child in Need of Supervision, Delinquency cases). The two judicial districts have email, fax, mail and in person filing procedures. The scheduling of these case types, however, are dependent on the Administrative Orders issued by the Chief Justice JoAnn Jayne whereby there are limitations to hearing cases in person.

During this quarter, the Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse, the three court clerks Caroline Padilla, Miranda Apachito, Tanya Chavez and the Office Technicians Racquel Hurley and Lorenda Joe worked on utilizing Zoom and then Skype for Business to set up hearings for litigants. As a backup we used Free Conference Call, which we were already using because the Judge also works in Ramah. The court only heard cases that were "essential" pursuant to the Administrative Orders that were issued. In the process, we learned that we needed more equipment including portable speakers with microphones, laptops with cameras.

R. COVID-19 Preparedness Planning – Alamo and To'Hajiilee courts

The court staff, probation officer and Peacemaking Traditional Program Specialists worked on planning a "reopening" plan for August 2020. According to the Administrative Order no. 26-2020, each court and program shall fully assess the ability to begin providing additional services beyond essential services and shall provide a report to the COOP coordinator by July 30 on the feasibility of providing these additional services, even if in telecommuting mode. (Administrative Order, 2020 May 19, retrieved from: <http://www.navajocourts.org/AdminOrders/AO-26-20.pdf> . Staff Attorney Alisha Thompson and Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse recorded a Skype call to give to staff regarding the local policies and procedures on May 15, 2020. Court Administrator compiled data from different sources and based on the World Health Organization's guidelines, the Centers for Disease Control and the New Mexico Department of Health guidelines, generated proposals for the staff in several documents. All the links to these resources are in the draft plan. These draft documents that outline staffing (staggered shifts), testing, disinfecting and cleaning, and lobby procedures were uploaded to the SharePoint. Some of the staff were able to provide feedback to the Court Administrator. The three other videos were developed June 18, 2020 for the facilities, procedures for the lobby and the staff schedule. Due to the upload of videos they were filmed via Skype and recorded in three videos to prevent it from being too large when uploading. Then on June 25, 2020, the Administrative office of the Courts issued a "Roadmap" draft document that also outlined phases and procedures for returning back to work. That information was shared with staff. There were four (4) videos, Excel spreadsheet, and Instructions to the clinic. Court Administrator also shared this information with the Court Administrators via a Skype call for review on June 30, 2020.

S. To'Hajiilee Chapter Meeting

During the pandemic for COVID-19, the To'Hajiilee Chapter officials had a chapter planning meeting or regular planning meeting via teleconferencing app on July 7, 2020. Regina Begay-Roanhorse, Court Administrator, provided a report to the community about court operations. Court Administrator provided updates on accessing court services via email, mail, fax, drop box. Due to an increase in domestic violence filings, Ms. Roanhorse informed the community of the challenges in getting police to serve the temporary protection orders upon filing. Ms. Roanhorse reported that the court is waiting on Plexiglas, laptops and the cellular Ipads. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse attended the To'Hajiilee Chapter meeting ([planning and regular) on August 20 2020, September 2, 2020, and September 9, 2020 and gave updates on court services to the community.

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse attended the July 7, 2020 teleconference for the Eastern Navajo Agency council where updates by Crownpoint Navajo Area Indian Health Services were being provided on May 18, 2020. It was recorded for online viewing and reference.

T. Town Hall – Navajo Nation President via Facebook

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse attended the Navajo Nation President's Town hall via Facebook. President Jonathan Nez and his staff, including Indian Health Service officials, provided an update on the COVID 19 pandemic on August 17, 2020. The President was discussing a "reopening" of the executive branch and his concerns. The Court Administrator attended the town hall again when Dr. Anthony Fauci was his guest on September 21, 2020. All information is part of planning for every week of employee safety.

U. Resource meeting with Prosecutor and Division of Social Services

We started a weekly effort to communicate with the Prosecutor's office on e-mail submissions and case management issues that we were finding with pending cases. Our first meeting was August 6, 2020, where we talked about the court orders that don't have all identifying information for social workers to use. We also talked about service of process during the pandemic by law enforcement. It's nonexistent. We had another meeting on August 11, 2020, to go over how cases are imputed into Justware and what constitutes discharge of probation. We met again on August 21, 2020, to discuss the work with referrals for cases and the use of technology for hearings.

V. Ramah Court collaborations

The Alamo Judicial District and To'Hajiilee Judicial District continues to be a sister court to Ramah Judicial District due to the fact that we share the same Judge. During this quarter, Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse issued the revised Court calendar at the end of July and in September 2020 for the three districts. The Alamo and To'Hajiilee Judicial District did a Skype for Business debriefing on August 10, 2020 with the clerks at Ramah and the Staff Attorneys. We did a "plus" and "minus" evaluation of how well it worked and what could be done better. This was beneficial to all to strengthen procedures for issuing Skype for Business invitations.

W. Navajo Department of Information Technology

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse and Grant Administrator Raquel Chee assisted Navajo Department of Information Technology staff Alex Largie, Sonia Nez, Radford Ashley with the CARES funding and how to ensure that they expend the funds properly. Their question concerned the equipment. The best practice is to have an oversight person at the department issuing the laptops. So we discussed as a group how to ensure the equipment is taken care of for the purposes of the CARES act.

X. Alamo Roof - Problem during Rain

The Alamo roof to the court building started leaking again and this was reported at the end of July to Facilities Maintenance and the Administrative Office of the courts. Custodian Jake Apachito opened the top hatch to the roof every day to air out when there was no rain. During this quarter the roof was "patched" but that was all. Was informed by the director of the courts Stephen Etsitty during this quarter that there was no funding available through Facilities Maintenance so will have to wait until FY 2021. So we continued to air out the roof and check on it to prohibit mold from developing. Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse met with Director of the Courts Stephen Etsitty and Virgil Burnside regarding the leaks to the Alamo roof on August 24, 2020.

Y. Online Survey

Court Administrator Regina Roanhorse created an online survey on September 14, 2020 through Google Forms. The closure of the doors prevents people from filling out the "Access and Fairness" Survey as part of the performance criteria. To make it more accessible, the Court Administrator provided a link to the clerks to give to the public so they can provide input into fairness and access to the two different courts.

3. STAFF ATTORNEY

A. Staff attorney Alisha R. Thompson continued to participate in activities associated with the Judicial Conduct Commission ("JCC"). The JCC held a virtual meeting on July 7, 2020 to discuss filling the vacant judge positions. Ms. Thompson provided technical support to the JCC meeting on the matters at issue.

B. Staff Attorney Alisha R. Thompson once again provided training to candidates for membership in the Navajo Nation Bar Association on the topic of Domestic Relations on July 8, 2020. Ms. Thompson regularly provides training in this area, but this was the first time the training was pre-recorded over video conferencing. Ms. Thompson received positive feedback on her presentation and hopes that the subject matter will be utilized for years to come.

C. Staff Attorney Alisha R. Thompson was actively engaged in JustWare case reviews this quarter. Due to the pandemic and staff working remotely, better communication needed to occur to assure that cases are handled appropriately and in the most efficient means possible. Routine reviews of cases on JustWare allowed for the Staff Attorney to identify those cases which needed Judge Platero's immediate attention, those cases which needed to be scheduled, and those cases which needed data entry corrections.

D. Service of Process – Civil cases

The CARES Act provided funding for service of process for Domestic Abuse Protection Act Temporary Restraining orders so on September 3, 2020, the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) Grant Administrator Raquel Chee facilitated a meeting with all Court Administrators to develop policies and procedures for utilizing those funds for registered process servers. The AOC Grant Administrator provided a training for registered process services in different districts regarding this new funding source on September 11, 2020.

E. Staff Attorney Alisha R. Thompson was also invited to participate in a Service of Process project for the Alamo/Ramah/To'Hajiilee Judicial Districts (ART Districts) on September 18, 2020. The Judicial Branch received CARES Act funding to pay court registered private process servers for their service of documents related to the Domestic Abuse Protection Act proceedings. However, there are no such registered private process servers in the ART Districts. Ms. Thompson researched the topic, helped conduct training to private process servers registered in other Districts, a separate training to Judicial Branch Staff, and then, along with Ramah Staff Attorney Robyn Neswood-Etsitty and Court Administrator Regina Begay-Roanhorse, developed its own PowerPoint training presentation. The ART Districts training was delivered to staff and those community members interested in becoming private process servers on September 18, 2020.

F. Finally, Staff Attorney Alisha R. Thompson attended many online/virtual trainings this quarter, including, Webinar SAMHSA TTA – Culture as Resilience: How Tradition Saved My Life on July 6, 2020; Accessing SharePoint and Sub sites on August 10, 2020; Judicial Ethics sponsored by the Judicial Conduct Commission on August 31, 2020; E-series Demo: Navajo Nation Judiciary sponsored by Westlaw on September 14, 2020; Court Call training on September 15, 2020; Roadmap Training: Decision Making also on September 15, 2020; and finally Tribal Law and Policy Institute's Healing to Wellness Enhancement Training on September 28, 29, and 30, 2020.

4. Training and Education of Court Staff: a total of 69 on-line training was completed by the court staff this quarter.

During this quarter, starting around August, 2020 when the court schedule changed, weekly questionnaires/surveys were required of all staff and COVID-19 testing every two weeks. A spreadsheet is maintained by the Court Administrator of the results of all these COVID-19 tests and questions.

We also strengthened our communication ability with the purchase of Cellular Ipads for our clerk and Office technician staff in August, 2020. We utilize Skype for Business and Cisco WebEx in this pandemic to schedule weekly meetings to go over case and court dockets, procedures, case management issues of documenting the Skype for Business invitations that need to be resolved. Dates of those district courts online meetings are: 8/4/20; 8/11/20; 8/18/20; 8/21/20; 8/28/20, 9/1/20, 9/8/20, and 9/29/20.

During this quarter, COVID-19 videos reviewed by our Court Clerk for To'Hajiilee included the following: CDC Handwashing, CDC Cleaning and Disinfecting public Spaces, CDC EPA Guidance for workplace and reopening after shut down; What cleaning supplies will help COVID-19 UC San Diego Health 2020 and Tribal Healthy Home network safe and proper use of disinfectants; how to safely wear and take off face covering, facility plans, reopening video with staff schedule, COVID-19 policies and procedures; how to best clean home, safely cleaning and disinfecting at work and how to clean and disinfect your home with someone who has COVID-19.

5. Objectives to be accomplished in the next quarter

A. Update Preparedness Plan.

B. Train Community volunteers on how to assist DAPO applicants with their petitions.

K. TUBA CITY JUDICIAL DISTRICT

1. Accomplishment of Objectives during this quarter:

A. General Staff Meeting. Court Administrator Alice Huskie provided updates on court operations and shared information on Judicial Branch plans for telecommuting and equipment purchases. Shared with staff the administrative orders from the Office of Chief Justice. Special emphasis on preventing the spread of COVID-19 Coronavirus was highly emphasized along with keeping the office area and home safe for staff and family members.

B. Court Clerks' Meeting. Court Administrator Alice Huskie held telephonic court clerks' meeting to address case processing and case management issues. With all staff on rotating work schedules, it is imperative to coordinate and communicate with all staff. The court continues to receive a lot of incoming court documents from the post office, fax and court's email. As directed by Chief Justice Jayne, the court continues to provide essential services and conduct telephonic court hearings. Staff attorney attended meetings.

C. Administrative Meeting. Judge Laughing, Staff Attorney and Court Administrator held telephonic meetings to address the court docket and other court related matters.

D. Staff Training on Private Process Servers. On September 15, 2020, Grants Administrator, Ramah Staff Attorney and Chinle Office Technician provided a virtual training for the private process servers and court administrators. They reviewed the guidelines and answered questions. Private process servers are individuals who pay a fee to register with their local judicial district to serve court documents. The CARES Act funding will be used to reimburse private process servers for their service of process for privately owned vehicle mileage and fees for successful and unsuccessful service of process.

Court Administrator and Staff Attorney provided training to the court staff on CARES Act funding for private process servers. Explained were the guidelines, the process to coordinate with private process servers and Police Department. The court also developed and explained the flow of papers to ensure accountability by the court and private process servers.

E. Oath of Office. On September 8, 2020, Judge Laughing telephonically administered the oath of office for Mr. Lyonel Tso at Tuba City Regional Health Care Corporation Board of Director, representing LeChee Chapter.

F. Child Support Enforcement (CSE). Due to the COVID-19 Pandemic CSE were not allowed to use the court building for their administrative hearings.

2. Other Significant Accomplishments:

A. Tuba City District in Alternative Facility. On July 30, 2020, COOP Coordinator, HR Office, Judge Laughing and Court Administrator met to address the report of possible COVID-19 contact by a staff member. The group agreed to take safety and precautionary measures by closing the court, pending test results from the local hospital and cleaning of the court building. During the court building closure, the court operations were moved to Kayenta Judicial District as the designated “sister court.” Meetings were held to transition the court operations to Kayenta District judge and court administrator. On August 9, 2020, the court building was cleaned, and on August 10, 2020 a re-assessment of the court was conducted and authorization from the COOP Coordinator was granted to resume essential services from inside the court building.

B. Tuba City District in Devolution and Reconstitution. On September 25, 2020, COOP Coordinator, HR Office, Judge Laughing, and Court Administrator met to address a report of a positive COVID-19 test result for a staff person.
